

QUESTIONS FOR REFLECTION

What does your relationship to water look like? Given what you've heard today from Indigenous leaders and your own experiences, what are you thinking about? This sheet provides potential reflection questions to use in illuminating your personal connection to water.

This is an opportunity to participate in a community-wide discussion, not homework. Feel free to answer any and all questions, or none at all. You can hand me your handwritten responses, email me a picture of your sheet, or follow the QR code at the bottom of the page to a submission box to leave your thoughts in.

I'm interested in hearing your thoughts and experiences and in sharing them with the wider audience of the One Water Madison social media following. If you don't want your responses to be published on One Water Madison's social media, please make a note of such in your response.

1. What waterways did you grow up on? Who were the original stewards of those waters? What has your relationship with them looked like over the years?
2. What waterways do you live near now? Has your relationship with them changed?
3. Have you learned anything recently that has changed how you think about water and your connection to it?
4. Tell me a story about a time water was more than a resource to you.
5. Is there a particular way that you conceptualize the water around you?
6. Do you have any questions for the Madison Metropolitan Sewerage District? I can bring your questions to District employees and have them answered.

https://onewatermadison.org/about-residency/community-comments/residentartist@onewatermadison.org